

Leave something in paradise

A gift in your Will can help future generations of the endangered yellow-eyed penguin/hoiho thrive

Penguins. Plants. People. Passion.

Dear hoiho supporter

The Yellow-eyed Penguin Trust wishes to ensure the long-term survival of the endangered hoiho, yellow-eyed penguin. Saving hoiho is a long-term task. Bequests will help secure its survival.

As a charitable organisation, the Trust depends entirely on grants, donations and sponsorships to raise enough funds to deliver our conservation programme. We aim to keep our capital intact, if possible, and bequests help ensure this is possible.

The Trust was formed in 1987 with the aim “To work towards an increase in the number of yellow-eyed penguins on a self-sustaining basis within their natural coastal ecosystem”. This aim remains today, as hoiho have been reclassified to nationally endangered (2017).

You can help our conservation programme by including a bequest to the Trust in your Will, either directly or as a Codicil. It is an easy way to help future generations of this unique penguin. Your bequest, be it modest or substantial, will be sincerely appreciated.

This brochure contains the information you need for either your Will or Codicil which your lawyer can advise you on. Please contact me if you need further information about this gifting. You can be confident that your gift will make a difference and will always be remembered.

Sincere thanks,

Sue Murray, General Manager

How do I do this?

Please contact your solicitor or legal advisor about leaving a bequest in your Will (or to make a Codicil, an addition to your existing Will).

The only information you require is the Trust's legal name and charity registration number:

Yellow-eyed Penguin Trust
Charity Registration Number CC22822

Making a legal Will is the only way to ensure your wishes will be met in relation to the distribution of your assets. A Will also helps to avoid confusion over your intentions and gives you peace of mind.

Long-term solutions

YEPT is committed to finding long-term solutions to protect the unique hoiho.

Your contribution will help us do the following:

- Create native forest for penguins to build their nests in
- Grow trees and shrubs at the YEPT nursery
- Manage and advise on habitat restoration
- Protect the penguins from being hunted by predators
- Support research initiatives
- Promote awareness of the plight of this penguin.

Help us to protect them - they need people like you to help them survive
